BERE REGIS.

THE CRICKET CLUB.

Five matches have been played so far, all of them away from home. The first match on the Bere Regis ground will be on Saturday, July 10th, against the Quadrant Club from Bournemouth. On this occasion the flag presented by Mrs. Radclyffe will be flying. Hitherto we have won three and lost two of the five games played. We usually start the season by playing at Corfe Castle, where we are invariably beaten. This year was no exception to the rule. At Bloxworth we were beaten by a large number of runs, we had not a very good side, while our opponents had got together a strong eleven from outside the parish. The Charborough match was very pleasant, and quite exciting, but we managed to pull it off by a narrow margin. Lady Dunsany entertained the teams to tea. The actual scores have been as under:

- May 15th—Corfe, 85 Bere, 55
- 22nd—Bloxworth, 164 Bere, 49
- 29th—Upton, 26 Bere, 101
- June 5th—Charborough, 47 Bere, 49
- 12th—Sandford, 45 Bere, 123

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY INSTITUTION.

The collections made on behalf of this institution were sufficient to secure three votes for applicants for pensions. It may interest those who contributed to the collections to know how the Vicar used the votes. He gave two to Clara Jane Ingram, aged 67 years, whose husband had rented a farm of 798 acres, and who was recommended by Lord Portman and the late Sir Elliot Lees, and one vote Charles Norris, aged 66 years. He was recommended by Lt.-Col. Garratt, who is a connection of the Vicar. Charles Norris had rented a farm of 280 acres. Both had been for many years subscribers to the institution. If they are elected they will receive a small pension for life; they both appear to have come to grief through the epidemic among their stock, and through their own failing health.

BAPTISMS.

- May 21—Lilian, daughter of John and Annie Rowland, of West Street.
- 23—Ethel Maud, daughter of Alexander and Mary Elizabeth Gale, of Stockley.
- June 13—James, son of Henry James and Eliza Way, of Chapel Cross.
- 13—Charles James, son of Sidney and Minnie Applin, of Rye Hill.

BURIAL.

- May 26—Lilian Rowland, aged 14 days.

SALE OF WORK AND GARDEN FETE.

This was held in the Parsonage Garden on the 26th. May. The day was most unfavourable as regards weather, being cold and inclined for rain all day. In fact, it did rain during the afternoon and evening. However the attendance was very good in spite of the weather, and business was brisk in all the departments after the opening of the Sale by Mrs. Radclyffe, who very kindly came over from Hyde for that purpose.

We heartily congratulate Lady Scott, Mrs. Stacey, and the Members of the Work Party, on the result £32 11 7 in all. Very great praise is due to all our friends who entered so heartily into the work on the Sale day, and in preparation for it not only at Kingston, but our friends at Bere Regis.

The money is in the hands of the Treasurer, Mrs. Stacey. She sends us a statement of account which we give below:

Space will not permit us to thank in detail all the workers and givers of good and useful things for the Sale. We should require the Bere portion of the Magazine as well as our own. However we must make one exception, and that is "The Old Firm." We shall never forget them. We hope that one day they will pay us a visit again.

THE COAL CLUB.

This will be taken as usual every Monday 4 o'clock.

THE READING ROOM

We very much regret that owing to the disgraceful conduct of certain young men members of this room it has been found necessary to close it.

It will not again be opened to the Parish as a Reading Room. It will open again for the Winter Session as a Men's Club, when the membership will be strictly revised.

Sir Douglas Scott goes away for his holiday on the 29th. June—before this is in print. He returns July 30th. Anyone wishing to write to him can address

"Sandringham"
Victoria Avenue,
Swanage.
