LENT.

The Lenten Services on Week-days will be as follows:—
Wednesdays and Fridays—Morning Prayer at 10.
Wednesdays—Children’s Service at 4-15.
Evensong at 7-30.

Mr. Bassett, of Whitechurc[h], will preach on March 8th, and Mr. Long, of Tolpuddle, on March 29th, on the other Wednesdays the Vicar will give the address.

We invite our Church people to observe the season of Lent by some regular act of self-denial, and by devoting some additional time each day to Prayer and Bible reading. Our Communicants are supplied with an intercession leaflet, which will help them in their prayers and to the petitions in contains we trust that they will add others for the work of the Church in our own parish each day. For Bible reading nothing better can be done than to read the morning second lesson or one of the psalms, as appointed in the Prayer Book.

C. E. T. S.

On March 12, Mr. Scott, the newly-appointed Diocesan Secretary for the Church of England Temperance Society will speak to the children in the afternoon, and will preach at Evensong. Let us say that Mr. Scott is not a person who goes about the Diocese inviting every one to take the pledge. He is the spokesman of a Temperance not of a total abstinence Society, for Temperance and Total-Abstinence are not necessarily the same thing. This will be the third opportunity that we have had within two months of learning something about the useful work the Church of England is doing among those whose lot in the world is hard. It is well to be proud of our Church because of her great age and long history, but it is even better to be able to point to practical work being done at the present time. We are grateful for the visits paid us by representatives of Church Societies from time to time, for they help us to feel sure that the Holy Spirit is still actively inspiring the Church as in the Apostolic days.

PIERROTCS.

There is no question about the success of the Pierrot Concerts. From every point of view the venture has answered. Its performers enjoyed the practices, and the audiences were thoroughly enthusiastic, above all the Pierrettes received frequent compliments on their personal appearance. It meant a good deal of hard work:—sixteen jelly-bag hats, and 330 pommpons were not made in an hour, and the troupe have spent at least two evenings each week since Christmas rehearsing.

The programme, as our readers know, consisted almost entirely of solos with choruses, relieved from monotony by two entertaining recitations, and a very amusing dialogue from Mrs. J. Baker White’s accomplished pen. The Troupe was no less flattered by invitations to Bloxworth and Kingston, than it was by the reception it received at these two places. We cannot go into details about the individual performances of Pierrettes and Pierrots, suffice it to say that everyone had something to do, and that they did it admirably. That the performances went off so entirely without hitch was due to the skill with which Mrs. Johnson accompanied.

CRICKET CLUB.

A Meeting was held at the Vicarage, on Jan. 25th, at which the accounts for last year were passed.

Mr. H. A. Drake having found himself unable to continue to act as Hon. Sec. it was agreed that Mr. Bere and Mr. Dwight should share his duties between them. Mr. Dwight will undertake the office of Treasurer, and Mr. Bere will act as Secretary.

The Club is sorry to lose the services of Mr. Drake. He has managed the business of the club, and piloted it through three very successful seasons. After a year’s rest from the responsibilities of office, we hope he will return to his old post. The chief need of the club is for cricketers, the number of actual playing members being so small that it is often difficult to get together a team. This is the more surprising as the games are always enjoyable. The unfortunate fact is that a good many of the young fellows of the village prefer loafing, and laughing at passers by, to any sensible form of recreation.

WINTERBORNE KINGSTON.

The Bishop has intimated his intention to ordain the Rev. Sir Douglas E. Scott to the Priesthood on Sunday, March 12th. We offer him our congratulations, and trust that he may long exercise the full ministerial privileges upon which he enters on that day. To the ordinary person it would seem that this second Ordination is a small matter compared to the first, but to the clergyman it is ordination to the Priesthood that admits to the privilege he prizes most highly — the right to celebrate the Holy Eucharist. The Vicar is writing this notice in order to ask the prayers of Church people at the coming Ember Season on behalf of this Deacon now to become Priest. He begs that they will read for themselves the Service for “The Ordering of Priests” in the Prayer Book, and that they will use with frequency and earnestness, the collect or other prayers appointed in that service. The Vicar will conduct a Special Intercession at Kingston at 7-0 on March 9, and the Ordination Collect, Epistle and Gospel will be used at the Holy Communion on March the 12th.

Holy Communion, March 12th, 7 o’clock.
